Consistory

Dear Brothers of the Pasadena Scottish Rite Valley,

As we embark on the 2025 Masonic Year, I extend to you a warm and heartfelt welcome. I hope you all had a joyous and memorable holiday season with your loved ones. As I pen my final message as Master of Kadosh, I am filled with gratitude and appreciation for the trust and opportunity you have afforded me to serve our valley over the past year. It has been an absolute pleasure to work alongside each and every one of you.

As we enter our centennial year, we have much to celebrate and look forward to. Our calendar is filled with exciting events, including the Centennial Festive Board on February 21st, 2025. Our newly renovated building is a testament to the hard work and dedication of our members, and its refreshed appearance reflects the spiritual renewal of our valley as a whole. This transformation is not just physical, but also symbolic of our collective efforts to grow and strengthen our community.

I encourage you all to continue supporting our events and activities throughout the year. Our renovated building is now an even more inviting space for us to come together, share in fellowship, and create lasting Masonic memories. Whether you can contribute through the Officer line, Degree Cast, Stage Crew, or volunteer for one-off events, there is a place for everyone to get involved. Remember, the work we do is often its own reward, and by being present and engaged, we can foster a sense of community and camaraderie that will propel our valley forward.

As we move into this new year, let us remember the wise Masonic adage,

“The work is the reward.” This timeless principle reminds us that true satisfaction and fulfillment come not from seeking external recognition, but from the journey of self-improvement, charitable work, and contributing to the betterment of our community. By embracing this mindset, we can continue to build a stronger, more vibrant valley, where every brother can find meaning, purpose, and brotherly love.

Thank you again for the privilege of serving as your Master of Kadosh. I look forward to seeing the great things our valley will accomplish in the years to come.

Fraternally,

Joel E. Castro, 32° KSA
Master of Kadosh, Consistory

Another Page in History

As the holidays pass and a new year begins, we should be thankful for the blessings and the accomplishments of the past year and set our sights on the tasks that await us in the future. Now is not the time to sit on our laurels. It is time to look ahead to bigger and better things.

First, I thank all the officers, staff and members who served our Valley this past year. Your dedication and spirit assisted the Valley to get through some rough times. It wasn't easy to continue our good work when half the building was under construction and some of our dinners and programs were held outside. However, Masons always find a way to imagine changes and make magic happen. As we used to say in the academy; "Semper Gumby!" (Always Flexible!)

A special thanks goes to the Cathedral Board members for their tireless efforts during the construction phase of this immense project. I was worried that it might not be possible to complete the task in such a short time frame, but like the building of King Solomon's Temple; time, patience and perseverance will accomplish all things. The result is beautiful and a masterpiece of which we can all be proud. Well done, my brothers, well done!

And now we look ahead to our one hundredth anniversary party in this newly remodeled room. It will truly be a special occasion, not only to start off the new year, but for the next generation of Scottish Rite members, their families, friends and our community. The generations may not remember our names, but they will long enjoy what we did here. Our home is a Pasadena treasure.

We are Pasadena Scottish Rite. We Are Pasadena!

A Sponsor's Responsibility

For every petitioner for the degrees of Scottish Rite Degrees there is a Scottish Rite Mason who is his sponsor on whom rests the responsibility for proper training of the petitioner. The Scottish Rite Mason who signs the petition has a responsibility that does not end with their signature on the petition. If you invited a guest to a gathering at your home, you make sure that he meets all of your guest and is made welcome and comfortable. Isn't the man whom you recommend Scottish Rite Freemasonry entitled to the same courtesy? As his sponsor, is it not your duty to assist him with his work and take an interest in his progress? It seems to us that it is, and that you should see to it that he fully understands the fine lessons of our degrees. If you recommend a man to the Scottish Rite, satisfy yourself that he is receiving that for which you recommended him. To do so is but a Masonic courtesy and it is your duty as a Scottish Rite Mason.

ARTHUR L. SALAZAR, JR
Grand Master of Masons in California

Brother Arthur Lupe Salazar, Jr. is a past master of Irvine Valley Lodge No. 671 in Lake Forest and was the charter master of The Thirty-Three Lodge in Orange County. The Jewish Kabbalah

The "Kabbalah," is a mystical and esoteric interpretation of Jewish teachings. Kabbalah explores the nature of God, the universe, and the soul, often through concepts like the Tree of Life, the Sefirot (divine attributes), and various meditative practices.

Three concepts to consider are "The Tree of Life", "The Zohar", and The Four Worlds".

The Tree of Life is a central symbol in Kabbalah, representing the structure of the universe and the relationship between God and creation. It consists of ten Sefirot (divine attributes or emanations) arranged in three columns. Here's a brief overview of the Sefirot:

1. Keter (Crown): Represents the divine will and unity with God.
2. Chokhmah (Wisdom): The initial point of creation, representing pure potential and insight.
3. Binah (Understanding): The process of discernment and analysis, allowing for the development of ideas.
4. Chesed (Kindness): Represents love, mercy, and the expansive force of creation.
5. Gevurah (Severity): Represents strength, discipline, and justice, providing balance to Chesed.
6. Tiferet (Beauty): Harmonizes the attributes of Chesed and Gevurah, symbolizing compassion and truth.
7. Netzach (Eternity): Represents endurance and the drive for achievement.
8. Hod (Glory): Symbolizes humility and the acknowledgment of the divine.
9. Yesod (Foundation): Acts as a connector, channeling the energies of the higher Sefirot into the physical world.
10. Malchut (Kingdom): Represents the material world and the manifestation of divine presence.

These Sefirot interact in various ways, reflecting different aspects of existence and spiritual growth. The Tree of Life serves as a guide for understanding the divine order and the journey of the soul.

The Zohar is one of the foundational texts of Kabbalah, often considered its most important work. Written in Aramaic and attributed to the second-century sage Rabbi Shimon bar Yochai, it was actually composed in the late 13th century by the Spanish Jewish mystic Moses de Leon.

Key Aspects of the Zohar:

1. Mystical Interpretation: The Zohar provides deep, mystical interpretations of the Torah, exploring the hidden meanings behind the biblical text.

2. Structure: It consists of several volumes, with a narrative style that includes commentary on the Torah, parables, and discussions among various sages.

3. Themes:

Divine Nature: It delves into the nature of God, creation, and the relationship between the divine and humanity.

Sefirot and the Tree of Life: The Zohar elaborates on the Sefirot and how they interact, emphasizing the importance of these concepts in understanding spiritual reality.

Mystical Practices: It discusses meditative practices and the spiritual path, emphasizing the importance of intention and purity in one's spiritual pursuits.

4. Symbolism: The Zohar is rich in symbolism and uses metaphors to convey complex ideas about existence, the soul, and the divine.

5. Influence: The Zohar has profoundly influenced Jewish mysticism and has also impacted various philosophical and spiritual movements outside Judaism.

Overall, the Zohar is a key resource for those studying Kabbalah and seeking a deeper understanding of Jewish mystical

In Kabbalistic thought, the concept of the Four Worlds represents different levels of reality and consciousness through which divine energy flows. Each world corresponds to a different aspect of creation and spiritual experience.

Here's a brief overview of each:

1. Atzilut (Emanation):

Nature: The highest world, closest to the divine. It represents pure unity and the source of all creation.

Characteristics: Inhabitants of Atzilut are pure spiritual beings and include the highest Sefirot (Keter, Chokhmah, and Binah). It embodies divine will and essence.

2. Beriah (Creation):

Nature: The world of creation, where ideas and concepts take form.

Characteristics: Associated with the intellect and the creation of the soul. The Sefirot of Beriah are primarily Chesed, Gevurah, and Tiferet. This world is where divine concepts begin to manifest.

3. Yetzirah (Formation):

Nature: The world of formation, where spiritual ideas are shaped into more concrete forms.

Characteristics: This world is associated with emotions and the formation of the soul. It includes the Sefirot of Netzach, Hod, and Yesod. Here, the spiritual begins to take on individual characteristics.

4. Asiyah (Action):

Nature: The lowest world, representing the physical universe and action.

Characteristics: It includes the material realm and the practical application of spiritual concepts. The Sefirot of Malchut represents this world, where divine energy manifests in tangible forms.

Interconnectedness

The Four Worlds are interconnected, with each world influencing and reflecting the others. Spiritual practices in Kabbalah often aim to navigate these worlds, allowing practitioners to draw down divine energy and elevate their consciousness. You may study the Jewish Kabbalah in or library.

This article will continue next month with the Christian Kabbalah.
